

Praise

"Alice is full of real-world tips and stories for travelling with a baby, but perhaps best of all is her infectious enthusiasm. Racing for a Greek ferry while loaded with baby gear? No problem! Changing a nappy on your lap in a tiny café toilet? The baby doesn't mind. Alice reminds us of the fun that exploring with baby can be - and what a great conversation opener a gurgling infant is anywhere."

Jennifer Howze
Online Lifestyle Editor
The Times

Also lead blogger on www.alphamummy.com

"Tales from a Travelling Mum is a refreshing book and makes an encouraging read for concerned pregnant women expecting their first child and all new mums and dads. You will laugh and empathize with the very real situations the family experience on their journey through life with a baby."

Laura Tenison MBE
Founder & Managing Director
JoJo Maman Bébé

"Alice has written a number of features for the Babyworld travel section. Alice presents a real hands-on mum approach and writes informative and amusing features of what it is really like travelling with a baby. Her advice and top tips will be of great use to other parents looking to embark on a travelling adventure."

Debbie Bird, Editor,
www.babyworld.co.uk

"This inspiring and evocative book just goes to show that with a spirit of adventure, a touch of humour and more than a little bit of bloody-mindedness, travelling with a baby can be a rich and exciting experience. If this book doesn't give you itchy feet and the confidence to travel with your brood then nothing will!"

Wendy Shand, Mum of three,
Founder, www.totstotravel.co.uk

"This book offers all the encouragement you need to take the exciting leap into travelling with your children. In addition, the two chapters on Spain offer a beautiful insight into life in this wonderful country."

Jan Cooney, Editor, Spanish Sun Newspaper
www.sunnews.es

"This informative and inspirational book is chock full of useful tips and advice on traveling with little ones."

Shannon Hurst Lane, Editor, Traveling Mamas

"Alice really reaches out to fellow mums with this book. Her mix of humour and honesty gives a realistic view of what it's like travelling with a baby, yet her clear enjoyment of the challenges ensures that you are left feeling that you want to do it too!"

Aliya Daya, Editor, Mumsense Magazine, www.mumsensemagazine.com

"If you've ever thought – or been told – that travelling with a baby is impossible, think again. Alice speaks from experience when she says that travel with your child is not only possible, but intensely rewarding. Her story is an inspiring and encouraging ready for any parents with a desire to see the world and share it with their child."

Eric Daams, Dad of one, Editor, www.travelblogs.com and www.travellerspoint.com

"If you want inspiration AND practical tips on travelling with a baby or toddler, read this book! Whether you are simply wanting some inspiration in your armchair or are about to set off on your own travels, this is a lovely read."

Antonia Chitty, www.familyfriendlyworking.co.uk

"Alice has been writing a family travel column for Twittermoms over the last year and has built up quite a following with her engaging stories about travelling with a baby. I am so excited to finally see all her tips and beautiful tales together in one place."

Megan Calhoun, Founder, www.twittermoms.com

"It's brilliant to see a popular mummy blogger get published! Alice's book is filled with beautiful, honest and inspirational writing – her blog readers will not be disappointed."

Susanna Scott, Founder, www.britishmummybloggers.co.uk and Top 10 British Mummy Blogger, www.amodernmother.com

"Wonderfully evocative and informative, Tales from a Travelling Mum is a must-read for all parents keen to satisfy their wanderlust with children in tow."

Liz Jarvis, Editor, LivingwithKids